Facebook + GitHub = devlr

GitHub is version-control focused and professionally oriented. Facebook is for anyone and everyone to share posts. With devlr, you get a developer-focused social incentive to keep your work profile up to date while also adding a view into your personal life: your extended background exposition, your aesthetic taste through theme choice, and your personality in your posts.

devlr v2 delivers more features to make connecting easier, with real-time communication via user posts and comments.

concept

description

devlr is an app where you can create a customized profile to display your development background, pinned projects and life posts to connect with other developers worldwide.

motivation

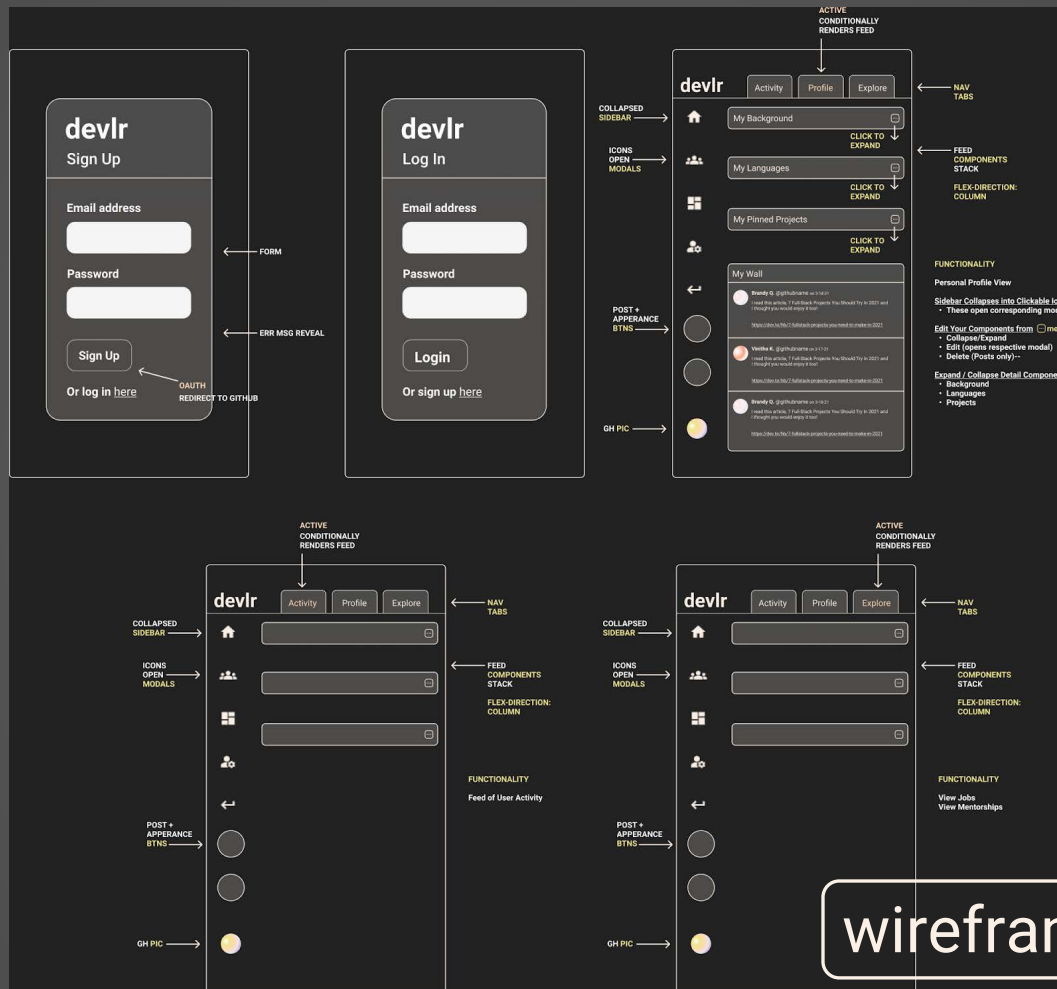

The devlr team wanted to create a social platform for developers to share their work, as well as their day-to-day life-experiences. delvr users are a part of a community where they are able to connect with other developers and share snippets from their portfolios and what is going on in their lives.

user story

AS an authenticated user...

I WANT to use an app to display my web development portfolio as a social media profile

SO THAT I can network with other developers
